

REMARKS/ARGUMENTS

Non-compliant amendments to the specification:

5 The amendment filed 5 June 2007 improperly amends Equation (2), which is part of paragraph [0022]. The amendment deletes nonexistent subject matter and replaces it with preexisting subject matter.

Response:

10 The Amendments to the Specification section is modified to remove the unnecessary amendments to Equation (2) of paragraph [0022] while leaving the other amendments to the specification the same as what was previously indicated. This error in the correction of paragraph [0022] was made without deceptive intent, and acceptance of the amended specification is respectfully requested.

 An explanation of the amendments is as follows:

15 Paragraphs [0021], [0022], [0023], and [0032] have been amended to amend all instances of the term Iref' that were written as Iref in the specification as filed. The apostrophes appear to have been dropped when the specification was converted to the format used for the Electronic Filing System (EFS). These errors in the specification as filed were made without deceptive intent. The amendments to the specification are fully supported in Figure 4 of the application, and no new matter is added.

25 As only the amendments to the specification were found to be non-compliant, only the specification is being corrected in this paper. The amendments to the claims are still reflected in the amendment filed on February 27, 2007.

 Acceptance of the corrected specification is respectfully requested.

Winston Hsu
